READING

by Deepstar

Witchcraft is primarily about doing and being. Although we do not denigrate academic pursuits we believe that endless reading to accumulate information is a distraction upon the path. For information to be transformed into wisdom it must be applied. As a consequence, the seeker is better served by taking a walk into nature, experiencing the elements upon the skin, listening to the wind move through the trees, or watching the surface of a lake. Meditate upon the images which arise within you when becoming one with nature. Work with the knowledge derived from within. Test it, and allow it to temper you. The spirits of the Land can instruct you well if you but listen. Such is the work of inner cultivation. Should you have leisure to devote to reading, the following texts may be helpful.....
